MILWAUKEE: Friday Morning, January 16. Printers' Festival.

The Printers of our city celebrate the anniversary of FRANKLIN's Birth, by a grand Supper and Ball at Young's Hall, this evening They anticipate the aftendance of many of the craft from other portions of the State, and have made every arrangement for an attractive and joyous Festival. We do not doubt that it will be entirely successful, for Prins ters never do things by halves. As the day will be kept as a Holiday by all hands in our office we shall publish no paper to-morrow morning but, abould any news of importance come to hand, will issue an extra in the afternoon. We are confident that no reader of the Sentinel will grudae ... P. inters their Holiday.

Organization of the Legislature. Both branches of the Legislature organized promptly and permanently yesterday morning. In the Senate, Ma, BRISBANK, of Iowa County, was elected Chief Clerk, and Ma.: Films, of Racine, Sergeant-at-Arms, by a vote of 19 to 9, over the Democratic nominees. In the Assembly, Judge SPOONER, of Walworth, was chosen Speaker, W A. WESS, Chief Clerk, and W.C. Rooms, of the La Crosse Republican, Sergeant-at-Arms, by a vote of 63 to 31 for the Democratic candidates. The selections are very good ones. Junua SPOONER, the Speaker elect, has decided ability, much Legislative experience, and great good sense. He will make an efficient and popular preciding officer.

Having made a fair start, we trust that the Legislature will do up its work quietly and there oughly; beginning with the election of a U. S. Senator, which seems to be the heavy business of the Session, and should be disposed of on the day designated by law.

The Governor's Message. We issued early yesterday afternoon, in an extra, and republish in our regular edition this morning, the second Aunual Message of Gov BASHFORD to the Legislature of this State. It is an unambitious, sensible and well considered documen t.

It opens with a brief review of the floancial condition of the State. This is, in the main, entirely satisfactory. Our debt is but a trifle, and the revenue is equal to the expenditure. The principal of the School Fund now exceeds two millions, and that of the University Fund three hundred thousand dollars, and the income of each is large and steadily increasing. A reform is suggested in the management of the State Prison which merits attention. Our Banking system continues to work well; the cupital invested now amounting to three and a quarter millions, the outstanding circulation to a little less than two millions and the securities in the hands of the Comptroller to about two and quarter millions The State University, and the Asylums for the Deaf and Dumb and for the Blind are favorably mentioned and justly commended to the care of the Legislature. A very earnest and proper protest is made by the G.v. ernor against the waste of time and money growing out of the special legislation which has here tefore almost exclusively occupied our Madison Solons and fairly cumbers, the statute books The Sentinel has again and again urged this matter upon the attention of successive Legisla tures, and we are glad to see it pressed so strong ly in the Message. Let the first Republican Legislature of our State earn a good name for itself by heeding the Governor's counsel and as chowing all local, special and private legislation except only in cases where general laws will not

The recommendation that the Secretary State, as Auditor, be empowered to examine and is a judicious one and will, we hope, be carried call it Manry's Telegraph Pluteau: for, as the out. So too is that in relation to a State Limitic name of Franklin the Philosopher is forever link.

Asylum. Let the Legislature authorize the construction of one, on the site already be lected, at the sailor be identified with the plateau upon allow a certain class of claims against the State, moderate cost, and upon a plan that will admit of enlargement as the State grows in wealth and population. The present miserably defective system of assessment is rightly consured by the Governor and a change in the law searnestly, recommended. Amendment is also neged in the matter of the State Printing and the Aunual Reports of the State Officers. Now the Legisla ture meets before the laws of last session have been printed, and the Governor is unable to sell them enything about the schools of the State be cause the Superintendent has neglected; or been unable to make his report to the Governor.

The Swamp Land Grant to the State embrace some two and a half millions of acres, and i traly a munificent gift. The Governor rightly re commends, in disposing of these lands, that every possible preference be shown to actual settlers. More stringent laws; are suggested to punish frauds upon the ballot box, and the attempt, last your, to cheat the People out of their choice for Governor, lends force to this recommendation. The Fox and Wisconsin Rivers Improvement is is good hands and making fair progress. The Governor anticipates great results from its succonstal completion. Our Railroads-those won der working agencies of modern civilization and improvement-are properly commended to the favor and "liberal policy" of the Legislature. A war upon them would be detrimental to the best interests of our State. A good word is said for our Harbor and River Improvements and the Legislature urged to me norialize Congre for appropriations. The Mineral Districts have yielded largely, the past year, as the result of fulfilling her tenets, in the spirit of forgiveness of better modes of working the mines. In this connection the Governor, urges the resumption and completion of the Geological survey of the State. This disposes of home affairs. Two paragraphs are devoted to other matters, the out rages in Kansas and the libels upon the American People put forth in the President's lest Message. The Governor refers the first to the early consideration of the Legislature, and rebuke the last with spirit and dignity. To sum up, the Message is a good one, presents a satisfactory record of our State Affairs, and, in its views and euggestions, will, we think, meet with the general concurrence of our People.

TAKING ITS OWN MEDICINE. A short time since, the N. Y. Journal of Commerce, a zealous Union saving and cotton-worshipping sheet inadvertently admitted the following "incendiaty" paragraph into its columns:

w. Strickland, the bookseller who was receptly banished from Mobile for the himourine of selling three copies of Uncle Tom's Cabin, has opened a bookstore in Milwankee." Being a "blow at our Union," it was promptly

e rrected in a subsequent number of the exemplary sheet, but alas! such a violation of the proprieties was not so easily atoned for. Two or three billions Mobilians ordered a. discontinu ance, one of whom enclosed the above scrap, re marking by way of comment:

"We have to request you to discontinue your paper to us. The enclosed paragraph, which we clip from a late number of your paper, will indicate the motive for our action."

The new Senators were all present, and the oath of office was administered to them by the presiding officer, and they severally signed the oath, and the Senate adjourned to 10 A. M to morrow. The Republican caucus to nominate ficers was called for 3 P. M.

The Assembly was called to order by Mr irmstrong, Clerk of the last Assembly, and 98 members answered to their names, Messrs. Foser, Howe, McCormick and Thomas being absent. Chief Justice Warron administered the oath of office, all standing, and the members walked up, by counties, and " signed the Constitution." Mr. Cameron moved that B. F. Phillips, who as the certificate of the consolidated canvass in Waupacea Co, be admitted to his seat till the matter is settled. After the reading of the remarkable return from that county, in which the Clerk certifies both the contestants! the motion was carried. Ex-Speaker Horn, who is on and again, now with a laudable desire to "make point," moved to go into the election of Speaker, but as the Republicans were not ready, they leclined, 29 to 62, and after Mr. Burroughs, of Rock Co., was appointed Sergeant-at-Arms pro tem, the Assembly adjourned to 10 A. Franklin's Birthday-The Philoso-pher and the Transatlantic Telegraph.

ing of the Atlantic Telegraph, and in allusion to Franklin's discovery of the affinity of lightning and electricity says:

"But what would the father of electrical science have said, if he had known that there were children in the world which he was leaving who would live to see the day that all England rejoiced that such was the triumph of science that the salute, which in augurated the 4th of July n New York, might be fired by English engineer officers in London ?"

Yet such is the face! A few months hence, perhaps less than a year, "the world's exquisite acrye," reposing in quietude upon its Atlantic ed, safe from current, secure from storm, will the track of speech between the two mightiest ations, the one linked chain connecting the old and the new world, tioing together the mother country to her once colonies, but her now powe ful daughter and rival.

The keen eye of an American sailor discover ed the bank or ridge in the deep Atlantic, the resting place, designed by the creator, we might say, for the telegraphic cacle, and may we not which the telegraph wire will repose for ages.

Those familiar with the history of the Electric felegraph in this country, will remember how Professor Morse for some time despaired of getting his bill through Congress, and how a young tady befriended him, and on the passage of the bill, was the first to communicate the fact to the Professor... In roturn for this kindness, the Proestor promised her, that she should indite the d et despatch sent on a complete telegraph line n the United States, and when all was ready he notified the young lady, who sent the following ief despatch-"WHAT HATH GOD WROUGHT." this was the first despatch ever sent upon a coindete line in America.

If, and we see no reason to doubt it, "The Transatiantic Telegraph" be completed by the Fourth of July, 1858, who knows but the 'Queen of Great Britain and Ireland," may indite some brief dispatch, and send "in less than no time," a greeting of good will from Britain to America? Who knows but that upon the eightysecond birthday of America, Victoria's hand may direct the spack, that gliding unseen along the Atlantic's bed shall discharge an international salute on America's Jubilant birthday ?--The two nations would flush with joy, and the hearts of the two people thrill with pleasure, at such an expression of their mutual good-will.-Despotic governments would tremble and quake, as they witnessed the two most powerful and most calightened nations of the world shaking hands with each other across the sea. Chaisdurity would smile as she saw that nations were all past wrongs. Mankind, the whole world, would be benefited as the last feeling of ill-will was for ever banished between Eagland and America.-

Obristlans might truly exclaim -"WHAT HATH GOD WROUGHT!" More than a century has elapsed since Frankin first placed lightning conductors upon buildings, the first wires along which electricity was made to travel; soon, a wire near 3,000 miles in leigth will convey it from continent to continent. The Printer's kits string-the lightning conductors on buildings, were the forerunners of the electric telegraph. It has been truthfully said, by whom we do not know-"When FRANKLIS Irow down the lightning and identified it with electricity, he forever allied his name to a subtile lement, whose every subsequent revelation is associated with the kite and key, the thunder and conductor, the benign image and endeared name of the Boston printer, the Philadelphia sage, and the American patriot." FRANKLIN first discovered how to conduct electrity, who will discover how to condense it? PUBLICOLA.

already existing, or which might be passed, it is, in my opinion, the daty of the legislature in the der the existing statute, and in the other, to devise a general law, meeting the case in question, and others of a similar character. In this mandal others of a similar character, laws and others of a similar character, laws and indequate idea is conveyed of the actual one case, to leave them to be accomplished unand others of a similar character. In this manner, it would seem that not only a large and unnecessary expense might be avoided, but the ovil results of special privileges and monopolius, which the species of legislation complained of tends to beget, might be averted.

I will submit for your consideration and determination whether or not, at this late day, when sure should have been passed, immesuch a measure should have been passed, ininia-diately after the adoption of the constitution, is, I think, undeniable, and I am still of the opin-I think, undemable, and t am still of the opinion that its passage, even now, might be productive of more, or less good.

There is now upon the statute book, a general plank road law, but it has, through the disregard of the Legislature, hitherto, been a more dead letter and special chapters have been passed at letter, and special charters have been pass d at etter, and special charters have a fit the general every session, in large numbers. If the general aw be defective, it should be amended and per-compelled to organize under its provisions.

The special charters of rail and plank roads The special charters of rail and plank roads alone, occupy over three hundred and fifty pages of the laws of 1855, and the volumes of session laws of each succeeding year have been burthened by them.

The attention of the Legislature is largely oction attention of the Legislature is largely oction.

The attention of the Legislature is largely oction and the laws over which the county of such lands. The amount of swamp and overflowed lands already selected is 1,842,919 S1-100.

The amount of swamp and overflowed lands already selected is 1,842,919 S1-100. The attention of the Legislature is largely occupied by local matters, over which the county boards of supervisors for the several counties have concurrent jurisdiction, and upon which these bodies are far better prepared to act understandingly, and in accordance with the wishes and interests of the people immediately affected by such legislation, than the legislature can be Entertaining these views, I would earnestly recommend that the Legislature act upon no measures, the purpose of which can be attained under "general laws; which come within the jurisdiction of the Courts Beards of Supervices, or any of the Courts of the State; or which may be properly disposed of by the Secretary of State. or any of the Courts of the State; or which may be properly disposed of by the Secretary of State, acting in the capacity of State Auditor as hereinafter recommended. By adopting this course, the State will avoid, not only the expenses of protracted sessions of the Legislature, but save a large sum arising from the incidental expenditures attendant more such sessions, and from the a large sum arising from the tarres attendant upon such sessions, and from the publication of a mass of laws of no interest or consequence to any but a few private individuals.

The legislature, should they deem it expedient to adopt any of the general laws herein recommended, might, in some instances, instruct the Revisers of the Statutes, to incorporate them in Revisers of the Statutes, to incorporate them in Statutes are incorporated from the property of control of the legislature, and Act was massed, entitled "An act to secure the or their report, thus obviating the necessity of cousuming the time of the present session in passing

Another evil which may be appropriately mentioned in this connection, is the propensity manifested by past Legislatures for continually american nested by past negligibilities for continuary anti-ding, repealing, and re-enacting the general law-of t e State, leading to great confusion and un-certainty in the laws, and giving rise to frequent and unnecessary litigation. luring their adjourned session, 1 had oc to call attention to similar outrages, and I then suggested the propriety of the adoption of measures for the protection of our citizens in the possession of their constitutional right to liberty and safe transit through any portion of our com-mon country. These renewed instances of lawless and wanton oppression, will justify me it For the past few weeks a greater degree of quiet seems to have prevailed in that Territory pace appears at least temporarily restored, and hopes are now entertained that citizens of this and other free States will hereafter be permitted to remein there in the prosecution of their lawful and legitimate business, secure from further violence and rapine. This change is undoubtedviolence and rapine. This change is undoubtedly attributable in part to the manifest determination of the free States to protect their citizens who have settled in good faith in the Territory of Kansıs, and in part to the aroused public sentiment throughout the same section of the Union, against the further extension of Slavery. The present tranquility, however, may be followed at the extension of the Union, against the new orders. Four those who my moment by new outbreaks. any moment by new distributes. After those who seek to exclude free labor from that Territory by the introduction of African slavery, we have nothing to hope. If by another effort they should deem it possible to accomplish this cherished purpose, the attempt will be made and the disturbances and violences of the past renewed. In my judgment, therefore, duty as well as pru-dence, demand that we stand fully up to the po-sition we have already assumed, and hold our selves in readiness to render all Constitutional aid, within our power, to such of our citizens as have become peaceable and bona fide settlers in Kansas, whenever the General Government shall fail to afford them accounte protection. An out-spoken and settled determination on the part of he free States, not to swerve in the mainter ance of this position, is the surest guarantee of tionary movement, the object of which is at-tainable only by the path of civil strife, and which would inevitably lead to the disruption of the union. The mildest language I can apply should be guarded against, and the expenses of the State government retrenched in every practicable and proper manner. Generous provision should be made for the support or our charitable institutions; an enlightened and liberal policy should be adopted in regard to the educational interests; while the State should pay her officers an ampie compensation for their services, in the form of a fixed and determinate salary, a

SENATE.—Mr. Seward from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill for the protection of steamboats from damage or destruction by fire Among other things it provides that all wood work shall be removed a certain distance from the furnace and flues; the fire-rooms and passage to be protected with iron, and in the event of fire, the flames to be extinguished by steam appliance, to be worked by machinery outside of fire-room, and the act to take effect one year after its passage.

House.—Mr. Pelton, of New York, presented a memorial from two hundred ship-owners, merchants and pilots of New York, recommending the passage of Roger's marine signal bill.

The House passed the Senata bill, with amendments, relative to foreign coins. It provides that the quarter, eighth and sixteenth dollar pieces shall be received by the federal offices at twenty, ten and five cents, but not again paid copper, and twelve of nickel, is to be struck and the coinage of balf-cent pieces to cease.

Mr. Campball, of Ohio, rising to a question of privilege, said he understood a remark by him, on Tuesday, was considered by Mr. Rust as insuling to him. Mr. C. thought it due to him to say that it was not his intention to insult or to cast any imputation on the gentleman, and he cast any imputation on the gentleman, and he now disavowed any such design. Mr. Rust remarked that at that time he understood Mr. C. differently, but was now satisfied with the disarowal of the gentleman.
